Recruit talent to build a competitive edge

ASU offers a variety of resources to help companies brand and promote their mission and employment opportunities to the university's diverse talent pipeline. There are dozens of ways to engage, including: career fairs, information sessions and office hours, tabling opportunities, presentations on campus, mentorship and coaching activities, resume books, scholarships, international hiring and connecting with student clubs.

Ranked #3 in the world for excellence in employer-student connections (QS World University Rankings, 2020), ASU consistently ranks among the very best in nearly every critical measurement of student success and impact in the communities it serves. From achieving the diversity demographics of our state to continually being a top school for veterans and military students (Military Times, 2019), ASU's focus on excellence, access and impact drives the development of high-quality talent and the next generation of leaders.
